Budget

Our school budget just opened at the beginning of this week. We are just starting to look at staffing and other financial priorities for next year. An exciting time!

Last Cycles of Numeracy and Literacy Targeted Groups

We head into our final cycle of the year with literacy and numeracy small group support. These targeted groups generally wrap up around the May long weekend. It's hard to believe this time is coming up fast! In June, we reassess students who received specific interventions throughout the year to determine how they've grown and to help us understand best practices for supporting students for next year.

Upcoming Events

Earth Week

As an EcoSchool, Earth Day is very important to us, so we turn it into a whole week! We will have activities planned throughout the week of April 22nd-26th. These include making a pledge to the earth, doing a community clean-up, taking your learning outside, recognizing Earth Hour by turning off all the lights in the school, and, of course, the Great Gulp! Our kick-off assembly is April 19th at 10:10am.

Sound Kreations

Our students will once again be participating in a dance unit with Sound Kreations on April 22nd – 26th.

Parent Land-Based Learning Session

We are so pleased to share that Jeff Horvath, one of our Learning Specialists in the Indigenous Learning department, will be leading a parent session on Land-Based Learning on May 23rd at 6:30pm. We will be taking our learning off-site to the green space by the tennis courts along the red path.

We hope many people will join us to get a glimpse into some of the learning we do with students at Glenbow around this School Education Plan goal.

Gardening!

Our annual Garden Clean-Up will be on May 15th at 3:00pm. Thank you to FOG for supporting this every year with funding for the gardens and by hosting a BBQ for all volunteers that evening. As suggested at a School Council meeting in the fall, we have reached out to Jeff about having Elders from the Stoney Nakoda Nation join staff for our May 17th PL Day as we prepare for the gardening season and then sharing Indigenous knowledge with classes when they are planting during the last weeks of May.
